

AN ECOLOGICAL AND FEMINIST CONSTITUTION: LESSONS FROM THE CHILEAN CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION 2021-2022

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 2022 | 12:30 - 2:30 PM

FACULTY COMMON ROOM 2027, OSGOODE HALL LAW SCHOOL, LUNCH PROVIDED

REGISTER HERE

VISITING PROFESSOR AMAYA ALVEZ

Professor of Law, University of Concepción
Former Member of the Chilean Constitutional Convention

Amaya Alvez is a lawyer, academic, human rights defender, and has long been involved with the constitutional process in Chile, including most recently as Constituent of the Constitutional Convention.

Please join us for a talk reflecting on some of the lessons from her experiences as well as opening to a roundtable chat with Osgoode graduate students on their own work dealing with law and social change.